Deputy & Assistant Headteacher Network

Building on 2 successful years we continue to offer this opportunity for Deputies and Assistant Heads to learn and network. It is a forum for collaborative problem solving and shared experiences to support leadership back in school.

Recognising the significant role undertaken by Deputies, this network allows them time and space away from school to focus and reflect on their own practice, development and impact.

These sessions encourage Deputies and Assistant Headteachers to think at a strategic level by providing input on the following areas:

- Use of policy and research to identify best practice
- Keeping current with recent updates
- Professional discussion, support, challenge and practical problem solving
- Application of Ofsted guidelines and readiness for visits and health checks
- Leadership development
- Coaching approach

This year's network will run alongside the core Future Engage Deliver Leadership programme that we are delivering for our TSA schools. Our content will connect and build on this; applying it to key areas of the Deputy role.

A core team will deliver the programme with support from external speakers and experienced deputies:

- Fiona Moore, Leadership and Talent Management Specialist
- Karen Slack, School Improvement Advisor & Ofsted
- Sarah Heesom, Teaching School Director, Transform
- Rebecca Meredith, CEO, Transform
