

Raquel Casado, Teacher, Whitemoor Primary Academy

- Modern Foreign Language Primary Specialist Teacher
- MFL and Global Dimension Curriculum Leadership.
- Embedding MFL across the wider curriculum monitoring the staff.
- Enthusiastic and engaging learning.

“I am a very enthusiastic teacher who uses creativity and new technologies to make learning enjoyable and accessible to all children. I am really excited about working with other schools as this would provide me the opportunity to take new ideas on board as well as the own satisfaction of supporting others. It is my passion to raise the profile of languages in schools, encouraging teachers and children to fully embrace the benefits of learning a foreign language.”

Raquel has been working in Nottingham Schools for over 4 years with wide-ranging experience across Nursery, KS1 and KS2. She leads Modern Foreign Languages at Whitemoor Academy and Hempsill Hall Primary School. She has gained many certificates because of taking part in my projects with different schools in European countries

She has experience of coaching language students from Trent University and class teachers in her own and other schools. She has also worked as part of a group of six schools, supporting different teachers to gain confidence within their teaching and learn new methods of teaching languages. In this group she has also shared ideas and examples of outstanding practise.

As part of her role as International Dimension Coordinator she has developed outstanding skills at the use of an amazing platform called “Etwinning” and the application for the International School Award through the British Council..

Raquel can provide tailored, specialist support for MFL specialists’ leaders and non-specialists teachers to deliver high quality of MFL all across the school. She can also lead planned interventions; help assessing the children; model and give demonstration lessons; advice on resources and equipment and help to make MFL a valued subject for pupils, parents and staff.
