Quote here:

I have been lucky enough to work with inspiring leaders to develop my knowledge of teaching and learning and bringing out the best in others. I love my job and enjoy working collaboratively with others to ensure our schools are dynamic, energetic and happy places to be in.

I am a practising Head Teacher in Nottingham City and I have been involved in the journey Haydn has made from Special Measures to Outstanding. The journey has taught me to be resilient and to embrace change.

I am committed to improving outcomes for children by developing a creative curriculum which captures all learners and develops knowledge and skills over time.

I have a specialist knowledge of Early Years and Key Stage One practice. I have been a Lead Early Years Moderator for the city for the past 5 years and am committed to developing “irresistible learning experiences “for the children in our school and beyond.

Having trained as an Ofsted inspector I have developed a clear understanding of monitoring and evaluating practice.
